

BERNARDS HARRIERS RETAIN TITLE

Hallinan wins in record 14:52 time

By GRANT EDWARDS
Chris Hallinan shattered the course record at Pennsauken High School as he led Bernards to a repeat victory yesterday in the NJSIAA Group 1 cross country championships.

Running all by himself, Hallinan turned the sandy three-mile course in 14:52 to break the mark of 14:53 set last year by all-group champion, Marty Lubinski of Cherry Hill West in the South Jersey Conference meet.

Meanwhile, three teams established themselves as the major contenders for the all-group title yesterday at Pennsauken. Morris Catholic and Morris Hills turned in the top team efforts, winning the Parochial B and Group 1 titles, while Paramus Catholic was also impressive in taking the Parochial A crown.

Jerry Lambert led the Cranford team in 12th place with Joe Simpson and Doug Stehlin 18th and 19th.

With Armstrong sidelined by pneumonia, Taylor had no trouble taking the gold medal as he beat indoor all-group two-mile champion Brian Penn of Watchung Hills by 60 yards with the second fastest time of the meet.

Nutley's Carol Conlon (44) is an easy winner in yesterday's girls' cross country meet at Holmdel Park.

Carol wins harrier title

Carol Conlon of Nutley was a surprise winner of the NJSIAA girls' cross country championship yesterday at Holmdel County Park as she defeated champion Hilary Noden by more than 1,000 yards in the race.

Hilary, who had been the favorite to win, was held back by a cramp in her right leg in the final mile of the race.

Miss Noden was leading on a rapid pace of 10:30 per mile when her spurs caught on a macadam road. She twisted her ankle and knee, but returned to the race.

Meanwhile, Miss Conlon reversed last week's sectional loss in history sophomore Alexander, with Michelle Gault of Paramus Catholic, the North Jersey 1 winner in third, another five yards back.

North Haverhill was led by Heather Pallen in seventh place and Sue Powell in 19th as it came closer than anyone else has to beating Red Bank Catholic in a state girls' cross country meet.

Princeton runners 2d in IC4A x-country

NEW YORK — With Larry Trachtenberg leading the way in third place, Princeton came out with its best showing of modern times in the IC4A cross-country championships yesterday at Van Cortlandt Park, placing second to North-eastern.

It was the second year in a row that a New England team had taken the East's classic cross-country title. Massachusetts, having won a year ago, the Flora brothers, John and Bob, led the Boston school in fourth and eighth places, with freshman teammate Bruce Bickford placing seventh.

Have Merrick of Pennsylvania shattered the course record as he defeated Army sophomore Curt Altz by 30 yards for the individual title in 23:31. The mark had been set four years ago by John Hartnett of Villanova.

Trachtenberg came over the line 180 yards behind Altz in 24:27. Princeton teammate John Cabell and Ron Vander 24:45 and 24:54, while Craig Mackay placed 26th and Tom Mackay placed 27th.

All that is left to the NCA championships Nov. 24 at Penn State.

In the college division race won easily by Boston with 27 points, Jim Carner of Fairleigh Dickinson was third at 16:35. Rutgers' John Mason of Colgate fifth at 25:38 and Columbia High School graduate David of second place Lehigh 10th at 25:45.

Parochial A

Byrne's individual victory and a 10th place by Hugh Monahan led Paramus Catholic to a 62.9 victory over Essex Catholic with favored St. Joseph of Metuchen third.

Leading from the start, Byrne had a 75-yard margin on Ivan Solovjev of St. Joseph of Metuchen.

After Byrne and Monahan for Paramus Catholic came Chuck McLain in 16th, Tom Halley in 18th and Mike Shull in 19th. Essex Catholic was led by Mike Giles, Dan Yates and Bob Cohen, who placed fourth, fifth and seventh.

TEAM SCORES — Paramus Catholic 62.9, Essex Catholic 16.3, St. Joseph of Metuchen 10.1, Morris Catholic 9.8, Watchung Hills 8.5, Cranford 7.2, Watchung Hills 6.0, Watchung Hills 4.8, Watchung Hills 3.6, Watchung Hills 2.4, Watchung Hills 1.2, Watchung Hills 0.1.

Parochial B

Defending Morris Catholic made a shambles of the race when her spikes caught on a macadam road. She twisted her ankle and knee, but returned to the race.

Meanwhile, Miss Conlon reversed last week's sectional loss in history sophomore Alexander, with Michelle Gault of Paramus Catholic, the North Jersey 1 winner in third, another five yards back.

Parochial C

A 1-2 finish by Tom Ceraco and Frank Krimmolt of Watchung Catholic was not enough as the IFA co-champion (watchung) ran off with both honors, 86-69, over the South Jersey school.

Krimmolt led the race almost all the way, but Ceraco came strong in the final mile to cross the line a yard ahead in 16:18.4. The two would have finished in a tie, but for scholastic track rules that for deadlocks.
